

Principles of Learning and Teaching

Starting May 2015

Innovations is proud to launch the Principles of Learning and Teaching Program developed by Jeff Kupfer and Innovations. This program will consist of a series of online modules that will assist staff with teaching strategies as well as depict how learning can be affected by environmental factors and how staff can utilize many “evidence-based” techniques to assist with teaching methods.

The modules will be released throughout 2015 and additional information will be sent out as each module becomes available. These online modules are required training for all staff and will be available on Smartview.

In addition to the modules, Innovations and Jeff will be working with staff in the homes to support Innovations continued efforts in providing our individuals with the best teaching and training supports possible.

Some of the modules address: Behavior and Environment, Learning and Effective Teaching, Choice and Preference, and Behavioral Momentum.

Innovations looks forward to working with each of our staff on this exciting endeavor and if there are any questions, please contact Lou Ella Price at lprice@imaginecolorado.org.
